

India Alliance Margdarshi Fellowships

Purpose:

- * Provides an opportunity for visionary biomedical scientists to lead and nucleate a cutting edge research program in India in collaboration with a host institution in India.
- * This scheme is for host institutions that are keen to improve their scientific breadth and wish to utilize experience of a highly accomplished scientist for developing new research platforms.
- * Two institutions may also come together towards creating a new program not available in either of the institutions under the leadership of a visionary scientist.
- * The potential candidates and the Host Institution are encouraged to make a joint effort towards establishing a centre of excellence.

Eligibility:

Interested applicants must –

- * Have around 10 years of experience as independent investigator, and can be of any age or nationality
- * Have a Sponsor at a not-for-profit Host Institution in India, who is willing to extend the desired commitment and resources for program implementation.
- * The eligibility requirement of relocation will no longer be applicable to current/future rounds and interested candidates will be allowed to apply from the institution where they are currently located.
- * Clinical researchers do not require a PhD to apply.

Large and flexible funding for consumables, equipment, staff, travel and collaborative visits.
