Doctoral Research Admission in Ocean Sciences

The National Institute of Oceanography, a constituent research institute of CSIR under the Ministry of Science and Technology (Government of India), is amongst the foremost oceanographic research establishment in the world. CSIR-NIO now invites applications from students in India and abroad for undertaking doctoral research leading to the award of Ph.D. degree. Aspiring applicant must be ≤ 28 years in age (relaxation as per government rules), have an M.Sc. (in any subject)/B.E./B.Tech. degree/M.A. in marine archaeology from recognized universities in India and carry fellowship of CSIR/UGC/DBT/GATE/ICMR/JEST/INSPIRE. The students from abroad must have an equivalent degree, a valid visa and financial support. The meritorious overseas students may receive partial financial assistance if recommended by the selection committee. Apply online twice-a-year before 15 April and 5 October (www.nio.org).