Societal attributes

Sarma’s role as a social thinker and reformer of the contemporary society is noteworthy. His drama scripts like Uttanka’s Guru Dakshina and Man and Society were immensely popular during those days in Assam. Sarma was also actively associated with the Assam Sahitya Sabha, a prestigious non-profit literary organization of the state, and wholeheartedly served for the restoration of culture and heritage of the common people residing in the region. His contributions towards education of children from the economically weaker sections of society cannot be ignored. According to him, financial stress and poverty must not be considered as a barrier to acquiring knowledge and education. Sarma breathed his last on 7 July 1973 at the age of 75 years, leaving behind his wife, four sons and two daughters. For his notable contributions to the Tea Research Association (TRA), the ‘K. C. Sarma Memorial Chair’ has been set up in his honour. TRA has also initiated the ‘K. C. Sarma Memorial Lecture’ effective from 24 May 2005.

---

Erratum

The upgraded GMRT: opening new windows on the radio Universe

Y. Gupta et al.,

In this Article, owing to an error during the production process, the y-axis label has been changed. It should have been ‘RMS sensitivity (µJy : 9 h)’ instead of ‘RMS sensitivity (mJy : 9 h)’. The correct figure is reproduced below.

The original Article has been corrected online.

---

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS. We thank the Director, Tocklai Tea Research Institute (TTRI), Tea Research Association (TRA), for valuable suggestions; and the Librarian, TTRI, TRA and Bhaskar Siddhanta, Sales Executive, Ashok Leyland, Jorhat, Assam for providing supporting materials for this note.

P. Dutta*, S. P. Sandilya, P. N. Bhattacharyya, S. R. Sarmah, A. J. Tanti, M. Madhab and R. Begum are in the Mycology and Microbiology Department, Tocklai Tea Research Institute, Tea Research Association, Jorhat 785 008, India.

* e-mail: prasantaduttattri@gmail.com