

A scene from a previous workshop

Current Science is organizing a training workshop on science writing in Chennai, Tamil Nadu for the benefit of scientists, researchers and science faculty. Sathyabama Institute of Science and Technology will be hosting this eight-day workshop from 2 to 9 May 2020.

The workshop aims to enhance the capacity of scientists and researchers to write different types of scientific articles, reviews, grant applications and project reports.

Indian citizens with a Ph.D. degree in any branch of science or at least two scientific papers in peer-reviewed journals may apply. Applications are invited from interested faculty in Indian universities and scientists in Indian research institutes.

To facilitate skill building, the intensive eight-day workshop will be complemented by an extensive virtual online workshop, feedback and mentoring. Active participation in online interactions, especially before the workshop, is compulsory.

Only 14 persons will be selected for the workshop to allow group discussions, interpersonal interactions and hands-on training. Arrangements will be made for the boarding and lodging of the participants selected.

Registration fee

Rs 10,000 (to be paid on selection) includes accommodation, food and workshop expenses.

Application form and the details of the workshop are available at:

<https://forms.gle/gob4GxwLA3Bh9GYv5>

Last date for receiving applications: 25 March 2020