for US-India joint training program workshop
2-7 February, 2010, Goa, India

Applications are invited from promising Indian Ph.D. students, postdoctoral scientists and junior faculty for participating at the "4th Research Training on Intracellular Pathogens Workshop" under the auspices of the Seattle-India Joint Research Training Program.

This workshop, to be held at the International Centre in Goa, will entail five days of activities including bioinformatics training, grant-writing exercises, round table discussions on research ethics and lectures on current research by GID consortium faculty from Seattle and Delhi. Students and postdoctoral scientists will also present their recent findings in poster sessions.

Approximately 30 participants will be selected to attend the meeting based on a submitted abstract and curriculum vitae. There is no registration fee for the selected candidates. The workshop will support the cost of travel by train within India (second class AC) and shared lodging at the International Centre.

Applications should be received no later than November 27, 2009

This workshop is supported in part by the Fogarty International Centre of the US National Institute of Health and is directed by Drs. Kenneth D Stuart and Marilyn Parsons of SBRI and Rentala Madhubala of JNU
