Department of Biological Sciences and the Research Centre of Excellence in Mechanobiology and NUS Centre for Bioimaging Sciences are seeking outstanding PhD Students and Postdocs for projects in Biophysical and Mechanobiology Programs.

- Structural Biology and Computational Biology
- Bioimaging including Cryo-electron and Optical Microscopy
- Molecular, Cell and Tissue Biophysics
- Mechanobiology

The Graduate Student Programs provide attractive 4-year bond-free scholarships of SGD $2500- $3200 and the Postdocs scholarships, SGD$4000 - $6000 monthly.

Requirement
Interested applicants should have strong analytical or physical backgrounds with undergraduate or graduate degrees in physics, engineering, computer science, applied mathematics, or biology.

How to apply
Applicants to PhD programs should download application package from www.science.nus.edu.sg/graduates/researchprog/research_applin_2009.pdf and email completed form to biophysics_mechano@nus.edu.sg

Applicants for Postdoc positions should forward a letter along with curriculum vitae, research interest, names of three external referees to biophysics_mechano@nus.edu.sg

Deadline for both programs: 1 February 2010

Shortlisted candidates for both the PhD and PDF programs will be invited for interview from 1 - 3 March 2010 in Bangalore.
